Spicer[®] Parts Will Soon Be Available Via TecDoc

Dana Aftermarket Group will soon be offering Spicer[®] parts on TecDoc, an online parts catalog available to aftermarket customers throughout the world. TecDoc is the most comprehensive cross-manufacturer product and vehicle database available in the aftermarket and is utilized by both Dana's customers and major competitors. This platform is already equipped with information regarding Dana's Victor Reinz[®] and Glaser[®] brand sealing products and customers can easily access those parts through the database. Due to the success and accessibility of TecDoc, product managers at Dana have been working to compile the necessary data points for Spicer customers to have instant and easy access to the driveshaft information they're seeking through this high profile catalog.

Once the initial data has been uploaded to TecDoc, Dana customers will be able to access a listing of many Spicer[®] driveshaft parts by searching for specific part numbers or vehicle models. TecDoc is currently utilized by more than 1.3 million users with technical catalogs in 29 different languages, further enhancing Dana's electronic global footprint. The Spicer TecDoc is expected to be launched in May 2016.
