Dana Introduces Spicer[®] Extreme[™] U-Joints to the EMEA Region

Dana is taking its toughest u-joint design – its Spicer[®] Extreme[™] u-joints – global by introducing them to EMEA (Europe, Middle East, Africa, and Russia) customers. Manufactured specifically for off-road use, these u-joints deliver high performance for vigorous off-road adventures and feature a SAE-4340 nickel chromoly steel cross for added durability. Engineered without bearings, the Spicer Extreme u-joint has larger trunnions making it virtually indestructible and able to tackle the most extreme trials.

“Our aftermarket customers in the region asked for a durable, Spicer u-joint and we’re delivering on that promise – this product is sure to impress off-road enthusiasts,” said Leonardo Tummillo, driveshaft product manager, Dana Aftermarket Group. “As an original-equipment manufacturer with the best u-joints on the market, Dana is excited to match that same level of strength and performance for our aftermarket customers in the EMEA area.”

Compatible with Dana 30[™], Dana 44[™], and Dana 60[™] axles, the Spicer Extreme u-joints are for wheel-end usage only. Their full circle, snap rings eliminate the risk of snap ring ejection while grease fittings in each cap offer easy installation and decrease the need for regular maintenance.
